Waldbaum's School Supply Initiative Aids Families

Showing their strong support for education, the Waldbaum's supermarket in Deer Park recently put together $8 bags of school supplies for its patrons to purchase as donations for needy families in the school district. The four-day initiative involved all Waldbaums stores across Nassau and Suffolk counties, giving community members the opportunity to benefit their local school districts.

After collecting approximately $1,000 in donated school supplies, Waldbaum's representative Joe Fabbio delivered the supplies to high school social worker Barbara Charity.
